Financing Smallholder Agriculture for Rural Transformation (FINSMART)

1. Background:

Agriculture and food have always been the most sought for sector in times of any crisis faced by the humanity and during the current situation when COVID-19 emerged as the global pandemic, all countries are targeting seamless supply of food to reach out to the teeming millions. At the same time, the leaders and policy makers are concerned about the future challenges on production, import, store and distribute food for the last mile people. This global health emergency and restrictions in food movements also brings in another important question of reaching out to the smallholders, value chain actors and the roles of the financial institutions to continue the supply of capital to run the farm related business. With the spread of COVID-19 across the globe the changes in both demand and supply side of agricultural value chains are quite visible. Majority of the financial service providers adopted the 'new normal' and added new features in their service delivery. The additional features are also supporting the business models with an overarching objective to support its clientele spread over large geographical areas of their operation. Due to this global pandemic, the world rapidly changes around us, however, what hasn't changed is APRACA's commitment to its members and the community of financial service providers across the region. As a regional association of the financial institutions and active advocator of enabling environment to extend financial services to the smallholders and rural enterprises, we're focusing on removing the barriers and provide access to global knowledge and development in the field of rural and agricultural finance through online exchanges and interactions in a structured manner. APRACA Secretariat is also trying to reimagining the possibilities of mutual cooperation and building capacity of the member institutions by sharing on-ground experiences of the experts drawn from the region and other parts of the globe. Together with our international partners and the staff members of member institutions in APRACA network who make up our community, we want to support you in every way we can.

2. Rationale:

We are mindful that extending financial services are not being compromised by the members of APRACA and are relentlessly supporting their clients during this tough time which is commendable and these efforts are worth mentioning as 'solidarity towards humanity'. While the financial institutions in the Asia-Pacific region are effectively engaged with their rural customers, APRACA Secretariat responded to this global and regional crisis by reaching out to all relevant stakeholders as the leading and extensive network of financial institutions to provide knowledge support to their frontline staff members in order to enhance their capacity to deal with the current situation and ensure access to and seamless flow of finance. The webinar series FINSMART is designed to provide a real time stock taking on the impact of this pandemic, good practices adopted by peer group financial institutions in the region and to recom-

3. Objectives and expected outcomes:

The overarching objectives of the webinar series FINSMART offered by APRACA jointly with other national/international agencies are aimed to build the capacity of financial institutions in the Asia-Pacific region engaged with the smallholders and downstream actors in the agricultural value chains so as to ensure efficient strategies and measures are being taken to challenge the post-COVID19 situation and seamless flow of finance and investments in to the sector. The webinar series are also envisioned to provide an avenue for knowledge sharing by the stakeholders on concrete innovative actions/strategies/pathways on the ground along APRACA strategic objectives 2019-2024 via technology-mediated social platforms that would directly benefit the financial institutions/investors/agribusiness companies and smallholders engaged in agricultural and rural development.

The expected outcome of the webinar series is to (a) contribute and highlights the issues and challenges of the region to the ongoing global dialogue and (b) to support the financial institutions, national governments in the region to undertake the right strategies and measures to deal with the on-going pandemic and its aftershock.

4. Speaker and participants:
